Remarkable CURES,

P E R F O R M E D B Y

Dr. L A M E R T and Co.

No. 10, CHURCH-STREET, SPITALFIELDS,
L O N D O N.

To the P U B L I C.

ALL persons laboring under disorders the most inveterate and dreadful, even those whose lives are almost despaired of, and who have been deemed incurable by the faculty, may apply for relief, and have the greatest encouragement to expect a cure, by the blessing of God; from the many and surprising ones already performed by him during his study of physic for upwards of thirty years with astonishing success, which can be attested by all ranks of people. He therefore acquaints his friends, and the publick in general, that he intends to give his advice to the poor (gratis) from eight till twelve, [after these hours one shilling for the benefit of the poor] on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at Mr. Bolton's, Farham, Hampshire.

N. B. This will not be called for again.

The DOCTOR is not an impostor, empiric or stroler, but has been regularly brought up to the profession: His motive for thus addressing the Public doth not arise from any mercenary view, but merely to render himself as serviceable as possible to mankind, therefore will, at the first interview, frankly tell those who apply what he can do for them, and engages to undertake no case without a real probability of performing the cure, by the blessing of God.—
He has performed many great cures, and that chiefly by herbs, which are more simple, consequently must be safer and much more effectual than chemical preparations or foreign drugs.
For the truth of which, the impartial public are referred to only the few following, as proofs of his great skill and success.

ADDRESS to the READER.

THE reader has been informed that this is published with no other view than the real benefit of the afflicted, which for upwards of thirty years has been the Doctor's principal study; during which time no labor or expence have been spared to render him as extremely useful as possible, in relieving those persons laboring under the excruciating and dreadful complaints the human frame is subject too, and which he has the happiness to say is not in vain. Instance the many great and surprising cures he has performed, by the blessing of God, within these few years, viz. upwards of six thousand; the particulars of all which would be too tedious to relate, therefore a few only are specified for the satisfaction of the reader, and the rest may be seen at his house, where he may be consulted on every case.

He has travelled much abroad, and gained an universal knowledge of the herbs of the whole earth, which, added to a peculiar gift of Heaven in the knowledge of all disorders incident to the human body, enables him, by the blessing of God, to cure all internal and external disorders, such as Fevers, Agues, the black or yellow Jaundice, Dropsy, Coughs, Consumption, Gravel and Stone, the Rheumatism, and Scurvy in the blood, Nervous Complaints of ever so long standing, or any disorder in the fair sex; such as weakness or obstructions. As for any Sores, Wounds, Ulcers, King's Evil, or Cancers in any part of the body, he cures without cutting, or pain to the patient.

Also Deafness of ever so long standing, and all disorders of the eyes, though nearly blind, restoring the patient to perfect sight; likewise Burstness and Ruptures, if applied to in time, as he is provided with bandages and trusses of all kinds for that purpose. The Public will observe this is no Quack Bill; the Doctor's intention only is to acquaint them where he may be consulted.

N. B. Those persons afflicted with any of the above disorders, not capable of coming themselves, may send their morning urine by any person who knows their disorder, and will find full satisfaction. He engages to cure all persons of either sex afflicted with the Venereal disorder, upon the greatest honor and secrecy, without the least hindrance of business, though ever so inveterate. The medicine is without mercury, and may be used by sea or land, or without the knowledge of a bed-fellow.

N. B. Those persons who cannot call in the day with the secret disorder, may be attended on every evening in convenient apartments for the purpose.

The Ague and Fever cured in nine days.

Electrifying to the poor gratis.

The Doctor continues to accommodate those gentlemen and ladies who are afflicted, with lodgings at his house in London, where they may depend on great care, peculiar attention, and strict secrecy, as well as if he was present.

A CAUTION. The Doctor is informed that there is a person who goes about and calls for his books, saying he has orders, and lives with him. The Public are therefore requested to take care of him, for he is an imposter; and whoever will stop or give information of him to the Doctor shall be handsomely rewarded.

N. B. Any person that lives at the distance of fourteen or sixteen miles, who would wish to see the Doctor, by paying the expence of coming, may depend on being waited on immediately.

An account of Cures.

IN gratitude to Dr LAMERT, and for the good of others, I think it my duty to inform the Public, that I was afflicted with the Dropsy and Yellow Jaundice for a long time. I applied to several of the faculty, but to no purpose, and was like to have remained in this situation, had not Providence directed me to Dr. Lamert, who, through the blessing of God, has made a perfect cure of me. Any person doubtful of this cure, may have full satisfaction by calling or writing a line to me, Elizabeth Planten, at Greenhithe, near Gravesend, Kent.

"The daughter of John Weston, Captain of the Gravesend boat, was afflicted with a large wen over her eye, which almost deprived her sight, was perfectly cured without cutting or pain, or the least hindrance to her eye-sight, by Dr. Lamert, which I am ready to attest to any one.

JOHN WESTON."

"Mrs. Manwaring, of Hazinwood, Cranbrook Parish, afflicted with a gathering in her breast, was cured without cutting in twenty-one days.

"WILLIAM MILLER, Hatter, Duke-street, in the Park, was afflicted for a long time with a White Swelling on his knee, which was as big as a child's body. He applied to many of the faculty, without success. He then went to St. Bartholomew's Hospital, where he remained two months, and turned out incurable. He afterwards applied to Dr. Lamert on the ninth of January, who perfectly cured him, by the blessing of God, by the thirty-first of the same month."

"JOHN MORGAN, of Russel street, near Greenland dock, was afflicted with an Ague and Fever for a long time, which reduced him to the lowest state; he could eat nor drink nothing but it came up again; he had a continual faintness and weariness, so as to hinder him from sleep; he was unable also to stand or lie down without assistance. Many had been applied to, but in vain, until Dr. Lamert had him under his care, who cured him in a short space of time.

SIR,

" Gratitude for the benefits I have received, has induced me to send you my case, which you may make public. Have been afflicted with a Mortification in my leg, which was deemed incurable by the faculty, unless it was taken off, which I did not choose, therefore applied to you, and by taking your excellent medicines, have obtained a perfect cure.

I am, Sir, your humble servant,

London House, Aldersgate street.

M. HICKS.

SIR,

" I have happily experienced your skill in that miserable disorder the Dropsy, which I labored under for many years. I was swelled, insomuch that I could hardly move; and expected every hour to be my last. I applied to many of the faculty, but they all gave me up as incurable, and told me it was past their skill to do any more for me. In this situation, I remained without hopes of recovery, till Providence directed me to Dr. Lamert, who, with the blessing of God, made a perfect cure of me in two months.

I am, Sir, your humble servant,

M. GOODWIN,

Wife of Joseph Goodwin, of Colling, in the parish of Hern, near Canterbury. If any one is doubtful of the above, they may have full satisfaction of me, or any of my neighbours who know the condition I was in.

SIR

" THAT the Public may know whom to apply to for relief in deplorable cases, have sent you mine to make as public as possible. I was afflicted with a cancer in my mouth for a long time, which almost deprived me of speech; my tongue was so swelled that it laid out of my mouth above an inch. In this situation I remained a long time, notwithstanding I had the advice of several of the faculty, to no effect, till Providence directed me to you, Dr. Lamert, who, with the blessing of God, made a perfect cure in a short time.

I am, Sir, your humble servant,

Doddington, near Faversham.

MARY CASH."

" Out of gratitude to you for the excellent cure I have received, respecting a large wound in my leg, which was perfectly cured in three weeks time: any person doubtful of it, by applying to me, may have full satisfaction of me,

THOMAS SHEPPARD,
Postman for the Tightham Round, from Sevenoaks.

SIR,

" I return you my most sincere thanks for the cure my wife has obtained by the use of your most excellent medicines, she having an ulcer in her throat, for a long time, which was so bad that she could scarce speak. I applied to several of the faculty without success, and might have remained in this situation, had not Providence directed me to you, Dr. Lamert, who, with the blessing of God, made a cure of her in a fortnight. I remain, Sir, your humble servant,

Preston-street, Faversham. SAMPSION COURT.

SIR,

" In gratitude to you, and for the good of my fellow creatures, I do hereby testify that I have been in a deep decline for several years. I applied to our Doctors, but could find no relief; afterwards to another, who was named the greatest Physician; but instead of getting better, I became worse than ever, and was almost dying by inches, till, by the Providence of God hearing of your surprizing cures by the use of herbs and roots, I sent my urine, not being able to come to London, and have, thanks be to God, received a perfect cure in one month. Your humble servant,

March 12, 1781.

ELISHA RYLEY."

Witness John Hewson, drover, at Malby near Allort, and William Riley of Theddlethorpe, are willing to attest this fact.

" I JAMES WARREN, Ship street, Wapping, was afflicted with the black jaundice, and spitting blood for some time, besides swelled in a shock manner. I applied to many of the faculty, and to the London Infirmary, but could get no relief, on the contrary became much worse than before till being recommended to Dr. Lamert, who administered his medicines to me, composed of herbs and roots, and by the blessing of God, the doctor has restored me to per-health, to the astonishment of all my friends and acquaintance.—Jan 1, 1782.

“ Mrs. MARSDEN, of Mudge court, Shadwell, was afflicted with a complication of disorders, and the black jaundice, for a long time. She applied to several of the faculty but the more medicines she took the worse she grew, her appetite was quite gone. In this miserable condition, she was almost reduced to a skeleton, and given over for death by several gentlemen of character and skill, so that her end was expected every hour ; but to the great astonishment of all who knew her, was perfectly restored to her former health, by Dr. Lamert. This can be attested by all the neighbours, as well as myself.

Jan. 2, 1782.

“ Mrs. BERRY, near the New Church, Bun-lane, Deptford, was afflicted with the Rheumatism in her legs, insomuch that she could not move from one place to another ; in this situation, she was for three years, who applying to Dr. Lamert, and taking his excellent medicines, is, thanks be to God, perfectly cured.—Jan. 13, 1782.

“ William Child, the Blue Anchor, Swanscomb, Kent, near Gravesend, was afflicted with the Gravel and Stone for nine years and upwards, he voided large stones as big as pease, and tried several of the most eminent of the faculty, but to no purpose, was in a short time perfectly cured by Dr. Lamert. The stones are to be seen at the Doctor’s.”

Nov. 28. 1782.

S I R,

“ I return you my sincere thanks for a cure that does honor to you, and which you have my leave to publish. I was afflicted with the Dropsy and Jaundice for a long time ; my body and legs were swelled in such a manner, that I expected every hour to be my last, notwithstanding I had the advice of several of the faculty ; but instead of getting better, my disorder increased daily. I then came home from Findon in Sussex, with an intention to go into the hospital, though I did not think I should live to get there. I came to Bexley, in Kent, where happily one of your books came into my hands, which induced me to apply to you, who,

with the blessing of God, made a perfect cure of me in two months.

I am, Sir, your humble servant,

Findon, Sussex, Feb 2, 1784. RICHARD GODDARD.”
Whoever is doubtful of the above, may have full satisfaction of Mr. Watton, in Bexley, Kent.

The following is a most extraordinary cure, which does honor to you, and I desire may be made public for the good of mankind in general, that the afflicted may know where to apply for relief.

“ My son was blind for upwards of six years, and notwithstanding he had the advice of the faculty in town and country, could find no relief for him, till, through the mercy of divine Providence, hearing of you, to whom I made my application, who generously told me you could make a perfect cure of him in three weeks; which, thanksbe to God, you have performed. I am, Sir, your humble servant,

New-street, Sandwich, DANIEL DRAYSON.”

Nov. 26, 1784.

Witness, Richard Pettman, at Ringleton, to whom I applied, who called a committee of the inhabitants — they agreed to pay Dr. Lamert for so extraordinary a cure.

SIR,

“ My wife being afflicted for many years with the Gravel, together with a gathering in her womb, which almost deprived her of life, it being attended with such excruciating pains that it is almost impossible for any human being to imagine, without they saw her lay in such misery, for it kept continually gathering and breaking for upwards of a twelvemonth; in which time, I can declare she did not know what it was to have one night’s rest, nor even two hours ease together, but always laid screaming and crying, hoping every hour to be her last. I had all the advice of the most eminent of the faculty, both in town and country, but to no effect, for they could not find out her disorder. In this scene of misery, she might have remained till it had pleased God to call her, had not divine Providence directed me to you, Dr. Lamert, who, as soon as you saw her, pronounced her complaint to be a gathering in her womb, which, with the blessing of God, broke in thirteen days after she took your medicines, and kept continually discharging both by stool and urine. At length she found her pains decrease daily and her appetite come again, and could rest well at night. In short, she gained her strength so fast, that it surprized and overjoyed all her friends and neighbours, who, in her extremity, constantly prayed to the Lord, as well as myself, to take her out of her misery: so that she now enjoys a better state of health than she has done since she was twelve years old; therefore I return you my sincere thanks, and consider it a duty incumbent upon me to publish this, in hopes it may be the means of relieving others labouring under the same calamity.

I am, sir, your most humble servant.

Bexley, Kent, Feb. 9. 1785. THO. BRATTEN."

Witness, — Thorp, Esq. at the same place where I live Coachman.

SIR,

"I return you thanks for the cure my daughter has obtained by the use of your medicines, she being afflicted with convulsion fits, together with the Yellow Jaundice, occasioned an obstruction in her courses, which rendered life almost a burthen to her; though I had the advice of many, but to no effect, but might have remained in this extremity, had not Providence directed Dr. Lamert here, to whom I applied, and with the blessing of God, has made a perfect cure of her in a short time. I remain, Sir,

Your humble servant. M. CHURCH.

Costan near Sandwich, April 8, 1785.
If any one is doubtful of the above, they may have satisfaction of Mr. Church, Baker, at Sandwich, uncle to the girl.

"My wife was afflicted with the Gravel and Stone: I applied to several of the faculty; but could find no relief; we expected every moment to be her last; but through the mercy of God, received one of Dr. Lamert's books. I applied to him, when he told me I might make myself easy, he would cure her, with the blessing of God. He was so kind to tell her there would come a large stone by the medicines which he should give her: it was very true. A large and small one may be seen at the Doctor's.

Witness my hand,

R. COLEY.

Beaver, near Ashford, Jan. 10, 1786,

" JOHN MERRALLS, son of Mr. Merralls, of Denterden, was afflicted with Convulsion Fits. He had the advice of several of the Faculty, but found no relief, till hearing of Dr. Lamert, who perfectly cured him in two months.

April 5, 1786.

" I JOHN FARLEY of Uckfield in Sussex, was for several years afflicted with the Gravel and Stone, which rendered me incapable of work. I applied to several of the faculty, but found no relief; but through the mercy of God, I saw one of Dr. Lamert's books, and applied to him; and with the blessing of God attending his medicines, am now happily restored, and as well as ever.

4th January, 1787.

" Susannah Brisenden, a servant to Mrs. Wilmshurst, at Northam, in Sussex, afflicted with the King's evil, was perfectedly cured in three weeks. April 12, 1786.

" JOHN HICKMOT, of Snargate, afflicted with the Dropsy and Black Jaundice. I applied to many of the faculty, without relief, till hearing of Dr. Lamert, who, by the blessing of God perfectly cured me. April 13, 1786.

SIR,

" I return you my sincree thanks for a cure that does honor to you, and which you have my leave to publish. I was afflicted with a gathering in my Stomach for three years, and I applied to many of the faculty without relief. At last I was in such misery, I could not sit or stand, and by accident, happening to get one of Dr. Lamert's books, applied to him directly. He told me my complaint exactly as it was, before I told him; and accordingly told me, that he would break the gathering. I was not able to get home. I fainted on the road, and was carried home. Two days after the gathering broke, as the Doctor told me, and the contents came out of my mouth like a fountain, and three hours after was easy. The Doctor ordered me some other stuff, entirely to eradicate the same, and am as well in health, as ever I was. I was perfectly cured in one month.

I am, Sir, your most humble servant,

July 8, 1786. ELIZABETH POWELL.
Witness, Thomas Gibbard, Farrier, Westerham, Kent.

" GEORGE SNUTH, of Yalding, was afflicted with a fever and ague, and cured in thirteen days. Ap. 25. 1786.

" I JOHN TREADWELL, of the Black-Lion, at Hartly, in Kent, was afflicted for a long time with a Gathering in the Melt, and was in such misery, as to expect every moment my last. I prayed to God to take me out of the world, that I might be relieved from my pain. In the interim, through the mercy of God, received one of Dr. Lamert's books ; I sent him my urine to Sevenoaks, by my own brother, and on examining it, immediately told him my complaint, and likewise to make myself easy, and he, with the blessing of God, would cure me. He informed me what would be perceived in both my stool and urine, which was true. He perfectly cured me in a month ; for which reason, I publish this for the benefit of some unhappy person laboring under the like disorder, that they may know where to apply. Any person that is doubtful of the same, may have full satisfaction, by applying to me in person, or by letter, at the Black Lion, Hartly, Kent.

Witness my hand,

July 12, 1786. RICHARD TREADWELL.

" I, ANN CLEMENTS, of Black-hall Farm, in the parish of Sevenoaks, for a long time was sorely afflicted with a dropsy, and in such misery, as not to be able to do any thing. I was recommended to Dr. Lamert, at Sevenoaks. He said, with the blessing of God he would cure me, which he did in a short time. Witness my hand,

ANN CLEMENTS, Black-hall Farm, Sevenoaks."

July, 22, 1786.

" THE Wife of William Shotwell, being afflicted for many years with an inflammation on the lungs, I had all the advice of the faculty, but to no effect, for they could not find out her disorder; Providence at last directed me to Dr. Lamert, who cured her in one month.

Garton-street, in Sussex, Nov. 6th 1786.

" I have been afflicted with the gout in the stomach for several years. I applied to several of the faculty, to no purpose ; but by application to Dr. Lamert and Co. have been perfectly cure. ELIZABETH

Little George Inn, Kepple row, Portsmouth.

S I R,

" In gratitude to you, and for the good of my fellow creatures, I do hereby testify, that I have been in a deep decline for a long time. I applied to the faculty, but could get no relief ; but the more medicines I took, the worse I grew : my appetite was quite gone. In this miserable situation, I was almost reduced to a skeleton, and given over for death. I constantly prayed to the Lord to take me out of my misery, but Providence directed me to Dr. Lamert, who, through the blessing of God, has restored me to my former health, to the astonishment of all my neighbours, and every body that saw me. We have reason to pray for him as long as we live. The truth of this we are willing to attest for the benefit of those unhappy persons laboring under the like disorder that they may know where to apply. If any person is doubtful of this, my neighbors will testify the truth of the same.

Witness my name,

Jan. 4. 1787. T. LASTER, at Hawkhurst, in Kent."

" STEPHEN BURTON, of Falmer, near Brighthelmstone; was afflicted many years with the Rheumatism ; but by applying to Dr. Lamert, he perfectly cured me.

Jan. 18, 1787. Witness my hand, STEPHEN BURTON.

" ANN GRIMSHEN out of gratitude for so excellent a cure received, (a wound in her arm, occasioned by a fall,) after trying many of the faculty, and being given over by them all, wishes to have it made public. A friend brought her one of Dr. Lamert's books, and by applying to him, was cured, and enabled to work within three weeks, I thank God for it. Any person doubtful of the same, may have full satisfaction, by applying to Thomas Stone, at Thomas Becket under the Clift, Lewes." Witness

Thomas Stone, Rachael Stone, Ann Pettit, Thomas
January 19, 1787. Pettit, Ann Wheeler.

" THE Wife of William Welling, of Beeding, near Steyning was afflicted with Convulsions in her Stomach, and the Yellow Jaundice, likewise the Gravel, with which she had before laid for upwards of six months, when she was given over by the other Doctors; for they told her they did not know what to give her more. I can declare she did not experience, for six months, one night's rest; nor even three hours ease together; but always laid screaming and crying, praying to the Lord to take her out of that her misery, which all my neighbours know; but through the mercy of God I heard of the great skill of Doctor Lamert and Co. and what cures he has done to people. He was sent for, and was so kind to tell her the complaints exactly as they were before she spoke; he likewise told her, she might make herself easy, for when all Doctors had given her over, there's a Doctor above which has not, and she will recover with the blessing of God. He made a perfect cure of her in one month.

Witness my hand,

David Goddard, also William Goddard, and William Welling.

February 5, 1787.

Any Person that's doubtful of this may have full satisfaction, by applying to David Goddard, Beeding, Sussex.

" JOHN LOCKER, of West Greenstead, was afflicted with a consumptive disorder, and growing so very low that he was expected never to recover, on account of having so often applied to the faculty without relief. At last, hearing of Doctor Lamert, he, with the blessing of God, cured him in less than a month." — March 4th.

" I have been afflicted with an Asthma on my lungs; I applied to several of the faculty, but found no relief; by applying to Dr. Lamert, he has made a perfect cure of me in one month, for which I return him my sincere thanks. Witness my hand, JOHN OTTEN."

March 13, 1787. Vine Inn, Point-gate, Portsmouth.

SIR,

" I return you my most sincere thanks for the cure my daughter has obtained by the use of your most excellent Medicines, she having an ague and fever for ten weeks, and was in perfect health in fourteen days, after taking your medicines. I remain, Sir, your humble servant, West-lane, Chichester, March 27, 1787. ELIZ. LOCK.

{ ELIZABETH BLAKE,
Witnesses } MARTHA TAPNER, (THOMAS IDDE.

SIR,

" I return you my most sincere thanks for the care my wife has obtained by your excellent medicines; my wife was afflicted with the gravel and stone for many years, till the 25th year, in January 1787, when she was taken with violent pains; she continued in such extremity of pain for several days and nights, which almost deprived her of life. I applied to the doctors, but could find no relief: we expected every hour to be her last. But, through the mercy of God, I had received one of Dr. Lamert's books. I applied to him when he told me I might make myself easy, he would cure her by the blessing of God, and often taking his medicines, she soon found relief; and she is now, by his medicines, and the blessing of God, made a perfect cure of in a short time.

I remain, Sir, your humble servant,

Rottingdean March 15, 1787

JOHN SMITH.

" Being afflicted for several years with the rheumatism, I applied to several of the faculty, but to no purpose; by applying to Dr. Lamert and Co. he has made a perfect cure.

March 27, 1787.

HARRY BURCH.

Singleton, Sussex.

SIR,

I return you my sincere thanks for a cure that does honor to you, and which you have my leave to publish. I was in a decline for four months, which had brought me almost to death's door, and tried the advice of many of the faculty, but to no effect; until hearing of the many cures you have performed, made my application to you, and I thank God, in less than six weeks, was perfectly cured.

Arundel in Sussex. From, Sir, your humble servant,

April 30. 1787.

WILLIAM WILLIAMS,

Witnesses } GEORGE BEAUFORT, } RICHARD SOTEHER.

" ELES. WILLIAMS, the daughter of Thomas Williams, at Wastden, near Chichester, Sussex, being afflicted for many years with an inflammation on the lungs, I had all the advice of the faculty but to no effect, for they could not find out her disorder, till providence directed me to Dr. Lamert, who cured her in one month.—April 28, 1787.

" MARY DOUBLE, from Kingston, near Lewes, was afflicted with the Gathering in her Breast, which gave her most excruciating pain, and having applied to many of the faculty without relief, was recommended by a friend of mine to Doctor Lamert, who thanks be to God, cured her in a very short time. This is published that the afflicted may know where to find relief.—May 2, 1787.

SIR,

* I return you my most sincere thanks for the wonderful cure you have performed on me. A Gathering came on my eyes, so that I was deprived of sight. I used many remedies, and took the advice to many of the faculty, but without relief. I applied to Dr. Lamert and Co. and they, with the help of God, restored my sight in six weeks time. Should any one doubt of the truth of this, they may have full proof of its authenticity. MARY ORAM,

May 6th, 1787. at Mr. Molinux, at Lewes, Sussex.

" J. HEIRYTT, Shipley Church, Sussex, was afflicted with a scorbutic humour for a long time; and having applied to many of the faculty, without relief; at last hearing of Doctor Lamert, was, with the help of God, in a short time, restored me to perfect health.—May 7, 1787.

" The daughter of John Haddock of North Stock near Arundel, was afflicted with convulsion fits, and an inflammation on the lungs. Having applied to many of the faculty, but found no relief, received one of Doctor Lamert's books. I applied to him. He made a perfect cure in a short time.

Witness my hand

May, 8, 1787. JANE ALLEN, North Stock.

 Dr. Lamert is the person so noted for his surprising cures, upwards of a thousand on his last visit in Kent having been perfectly restored at Canterbury, Dover, Deal, Sandwich, Margate, Faversham, Rochester, Gravesend, Ashford, Tenterden, Hawkhurst, Bexhill, Hailsham, Lewes, Steyning, Arundel, Chichester, and Brighton.
